Through the Royal Commission the confirmation of what was obvious that the banks and bankers have been involved in criminal activity against their customers .

They have shown that they are incapable of self deregulation.

As in the USA in 1933 it was necessary to enact banking separation with the Glass Steagall banking separation Bill.

This protected the financial system for 70 years

The equivalent bill is in Parliament at the moment.

The Royal Commission needs to be demanding this bill be debated and enacted into law NOW
