Dear Sir, Commissioner; My age has reached eighty-four, and over the years has battled with all the concomitant treachery inherent in our so called Democracy, that has spewed forth from Politicians, Reserve Bank Governors and our International Finance, Monetary and diverse lending Institutions; and without a shadow of doubt all of these individuals and organisations have conspired, either jointly, severally or individually, to take possession, control and ownership, of all the World's resources and currencies. We see what they have done and are still doing; they are trading in currencies, commodities and resource stocks, because these can be manipulated to their advantage, to reap profits at lowest risk. Gone are the entrepreneurs that would build to "produce", that would create work for our populations. Instead of settled industrious communities, able to rely on their savings and personal industry, we have communities, living in insecurity, unable to rely on a stable work environment, to meet their mortgages and the demands of raising a family; the gap, the awning chasm, that now exists twixt rich and poor, suggests that a revolution cannot be far off; even a cursory examination of the French example, within living memory, will convince anyone with "half a brain". My apology, follows upon the heels of this unseemly language. Now is the time for all moral and fair minded "Authorities" to step up and initiate changes designed to initiate the changes required; advocating and insisting that the original "Glass Steagall" act be reintroduced in its entirety would be a good start. Yours Faithfully, Thomas W. Adams.
