This is about the bad sales tactics of [REDACTED] Fill out one online survey nothing to do with this company and be rewarded with unwanted calls 3-5X a day for several weeks. Ask to be taken off their call register and be directed to a government do-not-call website and get told "I'll leave that to you," and then hung up on. Call back and speak to someone else about it and lo and behold, they can actually remove you from their internal call register, first guy just too lazy to do it. That many phone calls = harassment.
