We have been saving for our superannuation and do not believe it should eroded by anyone. Glass Steagall is a must. The bankers have been doing the wrong thing and will continue unless stopped. Politicians have only their self interest at heart. Voting for the main parties has become a nono. Unless there is a change of heart in the country the poor will get poorer and the rich richer. The middle class should be able to live in peace that their livelihood will not be taken by thieves.
