

SUBMISSION ON POLICY ISSUES RAISED IN ROUND 5

Submitted By: Anthony Tomlinson

Email: [REDACTED]

Phone Number: [REDACTED]

Submission for: My Self

Name of other person, business or organisation:

Do you agree to your submission being published: Yes

Do you agree to your full name being published: Yes

Your submission:

The speculating side of the banks MUST be separated from the commercial side to protect the bank's customers in times of severe recessions, global financial crises etc, by introducing for example the Glass-Steagall system or something similar that will achieve the same result. And to make the banks accountable to existing legislation which they are obviously ignoring now and for at least the last decade.