Banks have proven themselves to be untrustworthy in managing their clients finances, Conflicts of interest have been poorly navigated, while the so called regulators are profiting from being asleep at the wheel. Banks shouldn't own super funds, or any other financial business, super is just one of the reasons Australia needs "Glass-Steagall" the structural separation of the banking system. The Banks should not be allowed to continue regulating their own activities based on their own "non existent" morals & standards.
