I feel it sad and dangerous that in this resource rich country Australians do not own any of the wealth. In every industry the top 2 or3 players are foreign owned multinationals. Australia was set up from the start to be a country without sovereignty. Initially we did the bidding of Britain. Now it's Britain and USA. We have no foreign policy. Most of Australia's wealth comes from digging holes in the ground What happens when all the good stuff is mined. Our super money can establish ownership of the future wealth in our country. Thanks
