Superannuation funds should be protected from depredation from any source and that includes Banks. After the findings of the Royal commission into Banks, they have shown to have no principals or public morals and should never be allowed to speculate with the our money nor have the right to take our money to recover their losses on those speculative activities. Totally agree with the Hon Bob Katters' bill before the House. Good on him for having the fortitude to take up the cudgels for the average citizens of this country
