ROYAL COMMISSION Fri 21 Sept 2018 Reference Banks and the current Royal Commission into the Financial Services Industry I make the following points and trust that they will see your support; • Banks must not be involved in Superannuation because the retirement benefits of the citizenry are placed at 'risk' for the sake of profits to the Bank & of minimum benefit to the Client/citizenary. • This is one big reason why banks must be structurally separated and regulated. • Glass Steagall reforms were successfully applied for 66 years and were tried & true – Bob Katter has introduced such a Bill in Parliament in June 2018 . • I look forward to seeing the introduction of necessary legislation to get banks to start serving the country rather than the severe 'looting' they have been permitted [REDACTED]
