Superannuation is the biggest organised crime rip off. There have been some huge rips by the CIA and other Royal al Yamanas too. Superannuation is the biggest of them all. Millions of poor people have had all their superannuation stolen and that's an undeniable fact The hastily cobbled excuse for an investigation into systemic thieving is clearly the tip of a monster iceberg. Mr Commissioner, the speed needed for this submission igives cause to pause. Clearly you are searching a massive rip off catastrophe with an LED. What can't we see ? My money is on you dieing mysteriously if you do decide to expand the breadth and depth, as well as the timescale, for the Commission. If you don't then you're on the payroll, so that's understandable. So far the evidence of the behaviour of the Commission indicates you're on the payroll. Finally, if you pretend the deregulation of roads is a good thing. So that the biggest can do whatever they feel like to you while you try to drive, then you probably don't have the brains to understand that the deregulation of the entire financial is why you have your gig. You do seem a bit dim, but it's probably an act. I'd sack you and get real strong person.
