Your submission:

In late 2008, on the recommendation of a family member, my wife and I (we) consulted [REDACTED] for advice in respect to our finances, as I was accepting a very lucrative employment contract. The initial discussion covered loans over our owner/occupied property and led on to cover further finance to purchase an investment property, superannuation and life insurance. [REDACTED] We have been struggling through our many records in relation to a lengthy and complicated dispute and wish at this time to make a submission in relation to superannuation advice we were given and the results of accepting that advice. Due to inability to complete the submission by this current deadline we respectfully request that this notice of intent to make a submission be accepted and further details will be submitted within the next week.
