Wendy and Adrian,

Back at work after a couple of days away. Spoke to Paul last night and he let me know of Adrian's plans to come over. I'll make sure I'm available (16th ??) to come up and look at Jamberoo again when both you and Paul are together. I'll also start doing some figures and have look to see what info I need etc. Should be straight forward re income and expenses as all income will be from agistment/leases and only expenses will be rates and water. Possibly some capital expense re Jamberoo??

Not much point getting application forms signed as yet as there still needs to be an apportionment of the purchase price between you and Paul which will determine the amount of the loan increase.

I'll try and talk to Ben Wright today re possible new borrowing entity and loan structure.

Barring anything unforeseen it looks like it's all falling onto place.

Regards
